

WHEN WE BUILD, WE ARE STRONGER

It takes a nation to build America's seapower. At Huntington Ingalls Industries (HII), we contribute to the employment of 402,000* dedicated men and women who build and maintain the ships that keep the US strong and secure. These manufacturers are the nexus between economic recovery and national security, and span all 50 states. Over the last 5 years, HII alone has generated $14 billion in purchases, stimulating the American economy and creating growth for our nation. When we support these men and women, we support the recovery and future of America.
